Friday night candle lighting times

Candles may never be lit later than the time when Shabbat begins. However, there is also an earliest time before which they may not be lit. This is relevant over the summer months when our Friday night service begins earlier than the earliest time for lighting candles and thus candles should be lit between the following times.

Friday 18th May: NOT BEFORE 7.12 pm, NOT LATER THAN 7.40 pm

Friday 25th May: NOT BEFORE 7.20 pm, NOT LATER THAN 7.40 pm

Sedrah Reflections – Behar–Bechukotai

By Gadi Barnett (in honour of the Bar Mitzvah of his cousin Ami Jacobs)

'If your brother becomes destitute ... you shall support him ... so that he can live with you. You shall not take from him interest ... and you shall fear your G-d, and let your brother live with you' (Vayikra 25:35-6).

Why does the phrase 'vachai imach' ('[he will] live with you') occur twice?

The first verse is an active commandment to help your 'brother' and prevent him falling into crisis. The second warns that taking interest on loans can eventually leave the borrower in serious debt.

Taking interest – taking advantage of the weak and poor – is seen as a grievous sin. Midrash Rabba says (Exodus 21:6): 'HaShem said: "Whoever lives on 'interest' in this world [Olam Haze] will not live for the next world [Olam Haba]." The Gemarah (Baba Batra 10a) asks: 'If HaShem loves the poor, why doesn't He feed them?' R' Meir answers: 'To allow people to give charity [Tzedakah] and escape Gehinom.'

So, the first 'vachai' is for the 'recipient', helping him financially to live in Olam Haze; the 'giver' is keeping his place in Olam Haba through Tzedakah. The second 'vachai' is to ensure that the giver does not lose his Olam Haba; the recipient will not lose his place in Olam Haze by falling into debt from the interest to be paid back.

Many of the commandments in Behar–Bechukotai are aimed at creating an idyllic society. No-one is perfect: to reach perfection, one must assist and be assisted. We depend on each other in converse ways – for example, by giving and borrowing.

So, if a poor person receives money from a rich person, the poor person shouldn't feel ashamed and the rich person shouldn't feel arrogant, because that is how society is meant to work – and this is the natural flow of reality.

We extend a very warm welcome to everyone visiting our Shul today. We hope you enjoy the Service and will join us again soon.

Please don't eat alone! Contact the Shul Office in advance, or on the day either the Rabbi or the Gabbaim in your Service if you would like to join a family for dinner or lunch today
